In a statement, the town hall of Merignac had condemned "this femicide of an incredible barbarity which raises a wave of emotion in the city". It has set up a psychological unit for residents. This barbaric tragedy sparked a wave of indignation and prompted the government to launch an inspection mission. Indeed, many associations for the defense of women have questioned the action of the State. Among them, Anne-Cécile Mailfert, president of the Women's Foundation, tweeted "In addition to being a repeat offender, he had a gun! Again! But what is Gerald Darmanin doing?" Since the tragedy, the police union Alliance denounces "the laxity of justice" which should have pronounced a prison sentence "heavier" against the ex-companion of the victim ". CHAHINEZ BURNED ALIVE IS THE 39TH VICTIM OF SPOUSAL VIOLENCE IN 2021-----

Chahinez, a 31-year-old woman, mother of three children, died Tuesday, May 4 in Merignac, near Bordeaux (Gironde), after being burned alive by her violent recidivist husband from whom she was separated. She is the thirty-ninth victim to have died as a result of violence against women. This new « femicide » (Female Homicide) has generated a wave of indignation in France, where violence sows to have settled in the suburbs, with brawls between clans, terrorist assassins who attack the police, and violence against women . In 2020, 90 feminicides were officially recorded in France, against 146 the previous year.-----

The murderer of Chahinez from whom he was separated immolated her while she was still alive in broad daylight, on the street, in an ordinarily quiet neighborhood. The assassin emerged heavily armed, and fired several shots at her in the legs until she collapsed. He then sprayed her with a flammable liquid while she was still alive and started the fire, according to the Bordeaux prosecutor's office and the police. The house, where fortunately the children were absent, where the victim lived was partially burned down in unspecified circumstances. Finally, the killer husband Mounir B was indicted for intentional homicide on a spouse and placed in pre-trial detention, announced the Bordeaux prosecutor's office on Friday, May 7. CHAHINEZ WAS A MOTHER OF THREE CHILDREN WHO FILED A COMPLAINT AGAINST HER HUSBAND ON MARCH 16, 2021-----

Chahinez was a mother of two children aged 12 and 7 from a first marriage, and "had arrived from Algeria five years ago", according to her neighbor Anne, interviewed by AFP, and had remarried to Mounir B., 44 years old, father of his last 5 year old son. The three children were not at home at the time of the facts, said the prosecution.-----

On March 15, the young woman had lodged a complaint with the Merignac police station for an assault committed by her spouse in the morning. A flagrant investigation had been opened and despite searches by the police to locate the person concerned, he could not be found. "The victim did not have a serious danger telephone (TGD) and the respondent was not assigned an anti-reconciliation bracelet," admitted the prosecutor Office.

THE VIOLENT RECIDIVIST HUSBAND HAD ALREADY BEEN CONDEMNED AND RELEASED ON DEC 9, 2020

Chahinez's husband, Mounir B., from whom she had separated, was sentenced on June 25, 2020 by the Bordeaux Criminal Court as part of an immediate appearance for "willful violence by spouse" on his partner. He was sentenced to 18 months in prison, including nine months suspended, accompanied by a probationary suspension for two years, with a warrant of committal decided at the hearing, according to the prosecution.-----

He "had obtained from October 5" a specific external placement measure for perpetrators of domestic violence. Released on December 9, 2020, "he was since followed by the penitentiary service of integration and probation of the Gironde". This measure "included in particular an obligation of care, the prohibition to come into contact with the victim and the prohibition to appear at his home", according to the prosecution. A GENERAL INSPECTION OF ADMINISTRATION & JUSTICE WAS LAUNCHED BY THREE MINISTERS

Faced with the controversy, the Ministries of Justice and the Interior launched an inspection mission on Thursday. This mission, which will have to make its first conclusions on May 11, will have to "verify the modalities of implementation of the probationary suspension of which the defendant was the subject", "to examine whether this support was correctly carried out and monitored "and" analyze the follow-up to the complaint of March 16, 2021 filed by the victim, "detailed the ministries in a joint statement.
